CIRCULATING THROUGHOUT THE VAST AGRICULTURAL AREA OF PALM BEACH COUNTY

Moore Haven Has Canal Pt. Problem

Moore Haven "will have to re-design itself" to accommodate personnel at the new sugar mill or be "by-passed," the mill president said recently.

Roger Weeks, president of the Glades County Sugar Growers Cooperative, and also a director of the local chamber of commerce, said potential new residents among mill employees are passing up Moore Haven for nearby Clewiston by a 9 to 1 ratio. Weeks said a city "water problem" was responsible for this situation, although he said the city lacks adequate facilities also in electricity, zoning and sanitation.

Weeks' views came after Chamber President Roy C. Brown expressed concern regarding the city's water supply. Brown said the water quality has been doubtful, and that bottled water sales have been increasing locally due to residents objecting to chemical additives.

After considerable discussion, chamber directors agreed to seek advice from community planning officials at the University of Florida, regarding the city's needs in municipal services, which Weeks suggested.

Weeks also recommended that the Glades Electric Cooperative Inc., a four-county Rural Electrification Administration unit here, take over distribution of electricity in the city, and pay the city for the privilege.

Weeks, who is a native, and who has been engaged in cane growing for a number of years before election to head the sugar growers group here, said, "it is impractical to try to distribute on such a small volume."

The above story should furnish food for thought for Canal Point and its ever-increasing sugar industry.

4-H Short Course Held This Week

The first 4-H "short course" ever held in Palm Beach County was given this week, Tuesday through Thursday at the Mounts Building in West Palm Beach.

Credit Concern Is Geared To Needs

"Production Credit Association are keeping credit service geared to the changing needs of a progressive agriculture," according to Chas. B. Long, Jr., General Manager of the Farmers Production Credit Association, who has just returned from a one-day meeting of PCA officials held in Lakeland, Florida on July 9, 1963.

The workshop type meeting was conducted by officials of the Federal Intermediate Credit Bank of Columbia which furnishes leadership, supervision, and loan funds for PCAs in Florida, Georgia, and the two Carolinas.

To meet the needs of farmers for increased amounts of capital, Mr. Long said "The volume of loans closed by PCAs in the four state-area has increased from about $142 million in 1957 to more than $253 million in 1962 and the average size of loans has increased during this same period from $3,025 to $5,250."

"The intermediate-term loan program of the PCAs for extending credit for capital purposes instituted a few years ago accounts for a substantial portion of the increased volume. The PCA loan survey made last year showed that only 50 per cent of the PCA funds advanced are used for current expenses as compared to 74 per cent in 1956," Mr. Long brought out.

The workshop program included discussions on the quality of PCA credit service, getting and using credit information, lender-borrower relationship, and other subjects pointed toward continued improvement of PCA credit service to agriculture.

A farm visit for inspection and appraisal with a follow-up of reports and discussions was featured during the afternoon of the one-day meeting.

The Farmers Production Credit Association makes short and intermediate-term loans to farmers and ranchers in Dade, Collier, Broward, Palm Beach, Martin, St. Lucie, Indian River, Monroe and Okeechobee Counties, out of the association office in Miami, Florida or field offices located in Belle Glade and Vero Beach.

North Florida Has World Fair Plans

PALM BEACH — Officials of counties and cities and civic leaders in Northwest Florida have started a joint effort: to be represented in the state site at the New York World's Fair in 1964-65.

W. L. Stensgaard, executive director of the Florida World's Fair Authority, said today (July 16) the effort will be "spearheaded by officials in Tallahassee and Pensacola."

The director made the announcement after returning from a trip through that section of the state which included meetings in both Tallahassee and Pensacola. "Tallahassee and Pensacola city officials, Leon and Escambia County officials and representatives of the Chambers of Commerce in both municipalities expressed an interest in having the Northwest section of the state represented as an area," Stensgaard said.

"They plan to have another meeting within a week to ten days at which all counties and cities in the area will be represented. This meeting probably will be held in Panama City," he declared.

"We feel it is most important that the estimated 18 million persons who will visit the Florida site during the two fair seasons become aware of the great beauty (Continued on Page 8)

California's expected loss of vegetable crops in the rich Imperial Valley — last year valued at more than $50 million — may be Florida's gain.

The end of the Mexican Farm Labor Program (Public Law 78) after this year means growers will turn to field crops which can be harvested by machine instead of "stoop" labor.

"A lot of times, misfortunes of others will help our economy," said Agriculture Commissioner Doyle E. Conner yesterday in Tallahassee.

Joe Peters, with the state's division of marketing office, Orlando, suggested a "wait and see" attitude because California growers still haven't thrown in the towel, so to speak.

Other California areas, particularly around Salinas, might be able to increase their productions of tomatoes, lettuce, onions and melons, said Peters.

M. O. Watkins, director of the University of Florida Agricultural Extension Service and state experiment stations, said if California areas, particularly around Salinas, might be able to increase their productions of tomatoes, lettuce, and melons, said Peters.

M. O. Watkins, director of the University of Florida Agricultural Extension Service and state experiment stations, said if California growers drop production of some crops it could help Florida.

"Certainly, it should help Florida to some extent for they grow a lot of the same things we do," he asserted.

Both Conner and Peters say California "along with Mexico, Arizona and Texas — is Florida's biggest competitor for the fresh vegetable market in Chicago and along the Eastern Seaboard."

With the scheduled departure of the Mexican worker (Bracero) from the scene later this year, (valley farmers) already are taking steps for the smooth change-over from table to field crops.

American farm labor cannot fill the employment void created in the valley, say growers.

"I think we can foresee a drop in our (Iceberg) lettuce acreage from the present 40,000 acres to nothing next season," said Ed Hayes, manager of the Imperial Valley Farmers Association in El Centro.

Florida grew only 3,000 acres of lettuce last year — valued at almost $2 million — "so we don't compete with anybody with such little production," Peters said wryly.

Florida Land Needs To Be Investigated

TALLAHASSEE—A survey of the land needs of Florida until the year 2000 was instigated, by a group of state officials forming a planning council for the vast new program authorized by the legislature.

Each of the agencies was directed to prepare an estimate of its land requirements between now and the year 2000. The program will start off with half a million dollars to spend.

The council appointed Road Board Chairman John Phillips, Conservation Director Randolph

"Today we need a nation of Minute Men citizens who regard the preservation of freedom as a basic purpose of their daily life"

—JOHN FITZGERALD KENNEDY

10 days after his inauguration as the 35th President of the United States.

Twenty years ago, in the dark, uneasy days before Pearl Harbor, the Minute Man of Concord, timeless symbol of our Nation's determination to defend its freedom, emerged as the emblem of the U. S. Savings Bonds Program. When war came, the Minute Man became the rallying force behind the huge and overwhelmingly successful effort to back our fighting men with War Bonds.

In this, the 20th anniversary year of Savings Bonds, the Minute Man of Concord calls all Americans to an unremitting effort to help preserve our peace and freedom, threatened by forces more powerful and resourceful than those we faced in 1941. Though this effort will take many forms, one way open to all is the continued investment in Shares in America, U. S. Savings Bonds, by "citizens who regard the preservation of freedom as a basic purpose of their daily life."

New $3\frac{3}{4}\%$ interest on U.S. Savings Bonds

The Treasury explains why the new ones you buy and the ones you own now are better than ever

Q: How does the new $3\frac{3}{4}\%$ interest rate benefit me?

A: With Series E Bonds, the rate turns $18.75 into $25.00 fourteen months faster than the old rate. Your savings increase faster, because your Bonds mature in just 7 years, 9 months.

With Series H Bonds, the 10-year maturity period stays the same but more interest is paid you each six months. With both E and H Bonds the new rate works out to $2\frac{1}{4}\%$ for the first year and a half; then a guaranteed 4% each year to maturity.

Q: When did the new rate become effective?

A: June 1, 1959.

Q: Does the new rate change the Bonds I bought before June 1, 1959?

A: All older E and H Bonds pay more now—an extra $\frac{1}{4}\%$ from now on, when held to maturity. The increase takes effect in the first full interest period after June 1.

Q: Will the Bonds I own automatically earn their new rate?

A: Yes. You don't need to do a thing—just hold on to your Bonds.

Q: When my E Bonds mature, will they keep on earning interest?

A: Yes. An automatic 10-year extension privilege went into effect along with the new interest rate. This means your E Bonds will automatically keep earning interest after maturity.

Q: With the new interest rate, should I cash in my old Bonds and buy new ones?

A: No. The automatic $\frac{1}{4}\%$ increase makes it unnecessary—and in almost every case it is to your advantage to retain your present Bonds.

Q: How are series H Bonds different from series E Bonds?

A: The chief difference is this: You buy H Bonds at full face value and the interest is paid by Treasury check every six months for the life of the Bond. You buy E Bonds at 75% of face value and the interest accumulates to maturity. H Bonds provide income for living expenses, while E Bonds build a nest egg for the future. That's why many retired people hold H Bonds and families saving for, say, a child's education, buy E Bonds.

Q: In what denominations can I buy series E and series H Bonds?

A: E Bonds: $25 (cost $18.75), $50 (cost $37.50), $100 (cost $75.00), $200 (cost $150.00), $500 (cost $375.00), $1,000 (cost $750.00), $10,000 (cost $7,500.00).

H Bonds: $500, $1,000, $5,000 and $10,000. They are priced at face value.

Q: How safe are U.S. Savings Bonds?

A: Savings Bonds are an absolutely riskless way to save. The United States Government guarantees the cash value of your Bonds will not drop, that it can only grow.

Q: What if my Bonds should be lost, stolen or destroyed?

A: You can't lose. Every Bond purchased is recorded by the Treasury. If anything happens to your Bonds they are replaced—free.

Q: Where can I buy Bonds?

A: Buy E Bonds at any bank—it takes only a few minutes. Buy them automatically through the Payroll Savings Plan where you work. This Plan means you can have any amount you name automatically deducted every payday. The Bonds you buy by installments are delivered to you automatically, too. Your bank will take your order for H Bonds.

Q: How do I help strengthen America's peace power when I buy U.S. Savings Bonds?

A: Peace costs money—money for military strength and for science. And money saved by individuals helps keep our economy sound.

Related readings from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy will include this: "Whatever is governed by God, is never for an instant deprived of the light and might of intelligence and Life" (p. 215).

Bonnell scattered six hits while striking out eight and walking only one. The win was Bonnell's sixth against one loss. A fourrun first inning was all Bonnell needed to wrap up his victory. George McElhenney had three hits in three trips to lift his batting average to .455 which leads the team. Bonnell is second with a .411 mark. Turbeville follows with a .364 average then Jeff Barwick at .333, and Alvy Early at .273 round out the top five hitters.
